| 1      | The technical specifications are not generic and same are specific to one particular company (Lakeshore). The specifications for the source measure unit are specifically for Lakeshore only. Please confirm that, we can offer the Probe Station without SMU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | The tendered specifications are generic, objective, and standard for high-sensitivity research equipment of this nature. No, splitting the requirement is not permitted. This is an integrated system; both the Probe Station and the SMU must be supplied together by a single OEM.                                 |
| 2      | Variable temperature I-V test measurements need to be performed on the test “Thin Film” samples from IISER Pune, in a pre-installed instrument site of the vendor in India. Datasets from both direct probe contacts and soft contacts (using Galn eutectic) need to be acquired. The Technical Committee would inspect the same during the evaluation of technical bids and before the opening of the commercial bids. Please clarify if a sample demonstration/run is explicitly required. | Yes, a sample run is mandatory. This is a standard evaluation procedure to verify instrument data quality and performance for high-end research equipment. Note to Bidders: The thin film test samples are ready for collection. Bidders may collect them from the Purchase Section until 07/07/2026, 5:00 PM |
| 3      | Please confirm if we can offer our quotation in foreign currency as there is no vendor within India who can offer these range of products.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Confirmed. Since this is an open Global Tender Enquiry, bidders are permitted to submit their financial quotations in foreign currencies, provided they choose from the permitted currencies specified in the Bill of Quantities (BOQ) of the tender document.                                                              |
